

Cash Back in Fife – new festival celebrates the legacy of Johnny Cash – his music, influence and his family connections to Fife (Mar 2020)

Music legend Johnny Cash was immensely proud of his family's Fife roots. The US singer-songwriter behind such hits as I Walk the Line was a regular visitor to Falkland following a chance discovery that his family name was indelibly linked to the rural community and the neighbouring settlement of Strathmiglo, and played a special televised concert at Falkland Palace in 1981.

Cash Back in Fife is a new festival to celebrate his enormous legacy of music, inspiration and his family connection to the area.

Spread over Fri, Sat and Sun, 6-8 Mar 2020, the line-up is an exciting mix of established musicians and quality up and coming ones (most with a strong Fife connection) – Rab Noakes, Dean Owens, England's Hannah Rose Platt, Martha Healy, David Latto, The Marriage, featuring Big Country/Skids frontman Stuart Adamson's daughter Kirsten Adamson and Rezillos Fay Fife's brand new band The Countess of Fife ("The Cramps crossed with Johnny Cash!"); plus celebrated author Ian Rankin, talking about one of his favourite records by Fife musician Jackie Leven. What they all have in common is a love for Cash's music and acknowledge his influence on their careers, particularly as singer songwriters. This is NOT a tribute festival. Artists will mostly be performing their own material, but with some classic Cash tunes mixed in.

Cash Back in Fife is curated by award winning Scottish singer songwriter (and frontman of The Felsons) Dean Owens (in collaboration with Scary Biscuits Promotions and the Woodside Hotel), and inspired by his album, Cash Back (Songs I Learned From Johnny) - songs written, inspired, or covered by the Man in Black.

Dean Owens: After playing a show at the Woodside Hotel in Aberdour earlier this year I went for a wander round the village and fell in love with the place. I remembered reading an article about Johnny Cash and his family connection to Fife. His ancestors left Fife and set up home in the US. Being a massive fan of Johnny I thought it would be great to celebrate his legacy in Fife by putting on a small festival there. I put the idea to John at the Woodside and my manager Morag Neil and they got very excited about it. I then reached out to some amazing artists I know, including Rab Noakes and Ian Rankin - both of whom have strong connections with Fife, and they all loved the idea.

Ian Rankin: *I remember as a kid being stunned when I saw photos of Johnny Cash in our local Fife newspaper - he was on a visit to Falkland and seemed to have been beamed down from another planet. As a long-time fan of his music (my big sister played Live at San Quentin on heavy rotation in those days!) it's a distinct honour to be asked to participate in a festival celebrating the man and his music. The great Fife troubadour Jackie Leven was a fan of the Man in Black - so much so that he wrote a song about him and even called the subsequent album Elegy to Johnny Cash. I'll be reciting my favourite lyrics by Jackie Leven, including many from that album - and maybe talking a bit about how important music (as well as the other creative arts) has been to Fife.*

Rab Noakes: Having been aware of Johnny Cash from Rock'n'Roll onwards I became acutely informed of his expansive range and output in the second half of the 1960s. As an East Fife native (who lived in Strathmiglo for a while) I'm looking forward to Cash Back in Fife, and referencing these connections through song choices and anecdotes.

Kirsten Adamson: Coming from a strong musical heritage in Fife, I grew up listening to, and being inspired by, country music, especially Cash and Carter's material. When I started writing my own material at 15 years old in my bedroom it was a country twang that emerged and it has never left me.

The festival will take place in the charming, cosy and historic Woodside Hotel, Aberdour, which has recently been making a name for itself as a go-to venue for interesting touring musicians. Aberdour itself is a short train ride from Edinburgh, and is easily accessible from many parts of the country.

Owner John McTaggart says: We are very excited about hosting this festival, which ticks so many boxes for us, combining great music with Fife's unique links with one of the world's greatest musicians.

For more press information, interviews, hi res photos, CDs, MP3s etc, please call Morag Neil on 0771 288 0965 (email info@scarybiscuits.com)

Hi res photos for press, downloadable via Dropbox

Cash Back in Fife www.deanowens.com/cash-back-in-fife/

Twitter @deanowens1

Scary Biscuits Promotions

Tel 0044 (0)771 288 0965

Email info@scarybiscuits.com

Website www.scarybiscuits.com

Updated
Feb
2020

P
R
E
S
S

R
E
L
E
A
S
E

Cash Back in Fife

6-8 March 2020

Woodside Hotel

High St, Aberdour KY3 0SW

Fri 6 Mar, 8pm

Dean Owens & The Celtabilly Allstars + Martha Healy as support (with Al Shields) and as special guest.

The Celtabilly Allstars are Dean with his former Felsons bass buddy Kevin McGuire (who currently lives in Fife), with guitarist Craig Ross and acclaimed fiddle player Amy Geddes.
£18

Sat 7 Mar, 2pm

Join celebrated Scottish author Ian Rankin as he talks about his favourite record by celebrated Fife singer songwriter Jackie Leven: Elegy to Johnny Cash £10

Sat 7 Mar, 8pm

The Ring of Fire - Songwriters Circle

with Rab Noakes, Hannah Rose Platt and Dean Owens

Nashville style Songwriters Circle with participants trading songs and banter £18

Sun 8 Mar, 1pm

Sunday Afternoon Coming Down with

David Latto

The Marriage (Kirsten Adamson and Dave Burn)

The Countess of Fife (ft Fay Fife)

Grab yourself a lazy brunch in the Woodside's atmospheric restaurant, then chill out for a couple of hours with 3 of Fife's finest.

£12

Weekend Pass - £45

This entitles you to attend all the concerts and events, but doesn't include food or accommodation.

Tickets can also be purchased separately for individual gigs and events.

A limited number of special deals which include accommodation are available direct from The Woodside Hotel. (Contact John McTaggart on 01383 860328).

<http://woodsidehotelaberdour.co.uk/>

Cash Back in Fife website (inc ticket links) – www.deanowens.com/cash-back-in-fife/

Artist Weblinks

Ian Rankin

www.ianrankin.net/

Rab Noakes

rabnoakes.com/

Hannah Rose Platt

www.hannahroseplatt.com/

Martha Healy

www.marthalhealy.com/

The Marriage

Wethemarriage.com

David Latto

www.davidlattomusic.com/

The Countess of Fife

<https://www.facebook.com/countessoffife/>